

The ICAC's 80th Plenary Meeting

Mr Nate Herman

Nate Herman oversees AAFA's Policy department, managing the association's lobbying, policy and regulatory affairs activities. Nate leads AAFA's corporate social responsibility (CSR) program, formulating and implementing CSR policy and representing AAFA and the industry on CSR issues before governments, NGOs, and other key stakeholders. In addition, Nate develops all apparel and footwear industry data and statistics as AAFA's resident economist. Prior to joining AAFA, Nate worked for six years at the U.S. Department of Commerce's International Trade Administration assisting U.S. firms in entering the global market. Nate spent the last two years as the Department's industry analyst for the footwear and travel goods industries. Nate received a Masters of Public and International Affairs from the University of Pittsburgh in 1994 and Bachelor of Arts in International Relations and Economics from the University of Delaware in 1992.